Environmental Management Programme

Integrated Pollution Prevention and Control (IPPC) is an EU directive and a combined approach to managing the environmental impacts of industry. Through a single permitting process, operators must apply “Best Available Techniques” and meet other requirements, taking account of local factors.

All IPPC installations are required to apply for a permit to operate, by industry sector, under transitional arrangements which began in the first quarter 2001 and will end at the fourth quarter 2007.

The Inenco Environmental Management Programme will help you to minimise the impact of IPPC, by providing resource to ensure legal compliance and reducing waste to achieve savings to offset compliance costs.
